The Corewell Health Adult Solid Organ Transplant Summit brings together transplant clinicians, coordinators, pharmacists, and multidisciplinary partners for a full-day educational and collaborative event focused on improving long-term transplant outcomes. Attendees will gain evidence-based insights and practical tools to support high-quality transplant care.

Why attend?

Hear from Joseph Rogers, M.D., director of The Texas Heart Institute at Baylor College of Medicine and an internationally recognized expert in heart failure, heart transplantation, and mechanical circulatory support.

Topics are designed to offer providers involved in the care of transplant patients the resources to better care for patients with cardiovascular needs.
